GO! Project Celebrates its Successful Inaugural Transnational Meeting in Nicosia, Cyprus

The GO! project, led by M.M.C. Management Center, kicked off its inaugural face-to-face transnational meeting in Nicosia, Cyprus, setting the stage for a transformative journey in career guidance across Europe. The meeting marked the first official gathering of the project partners, including key representatives from ASNOR, the project partner organization.

Event Highlights

Day One: Setting the Framework

The meeting began with a welcome from the project coordinator at the M.M.C. Management Center's premises, followed by introductions from both partner organizations. The day focused on laying out the project's core framework, covering: Project Management and Coordination, Quality Assurance and Dissemination of Activities and Results.

The sessions provided insightful discussions that shaped the project's strategic direction and concluded with a feedback session that set an optimistic tone for the upcoming activities.

Day Two: Deep Dives and Strategic Deliberations

The second day of the meeting delved into identifying European projects, best practices, and innovative tools aimed at enhancing career guidance for disadvantaged groups. Discussions also centered on the development of a comprehensive online platform intended to become a one-stop-shop for career guidance resources. The day ended on a high note with a review session that celebrated the successful conclusion of the first transnational meeting.

Looking Forward

Inspired by the commitment and insights shared during the meeting, the GO! project is poised to build on this initial momentum. The project partners invite all potential participants and stakeholders to remain connected and involved as the project progresses.

Thank You
